Lucky Gets Rid of a Fearful Anxieties
Louise and Her Lawyers Put Their Pockets, and Everybody Is Happy at Last.

No other suit was ever tried in Los Angeles county that caused such universal popular feeling or such unanimity of feeling and none was ever followed throughout the state by such a series of so frequent and tedious turns and changes with such a constant and unflagging interest as the celebrated case of Perkins vs. Baldwin. Not only this county and the whole of Southern California was this interest. Generous reports of the case and its trial were graphed and read wherever the English language is spoken. The prominence of the defendant, E. J. Baldwin, better known as Lucky, owner of the Santa Anita Ranch, and of one of the best-known racing stables in the country, and a notable in many ways besides his ment produced; and the beauty of the plaintiff—a modest-appearing young woman with really remarkable abilities, lent a great deal of interest. At outset, little was thought of the matter; but as case went on, an overwhelming and perhaps unparalleled popular feeling in behalf of the girl was developed.

Last night perhaps a dozen persons have been present at the trial, and the case is one of the latest sensation in this cause célèbre. Today the public will be astounded to find that the suft of Perkins vs. Baldwin been settled finally and forever. Under circumstances a brief resumé of the of the case will be interesting.

April 11, 1885, Louise C. Perkins was charged from a position in J. T. Shew dry goods store. She at once disappeared and the fact was noted exclusively in TIMES. April 25th THE TIMES notes the fact that Louise had been found—that had run off to San Bernardino with lower WOLF Padua. The northern lower arrested and brought back on a trump charge by the girl's mother. April 3 suit was filed with the County Clerk Louise C. Perkins against E. J. Baldwin claiming $500,000 damages for breach of promise. It was testified at the trial the suit had therefore been delayed for fear of publicity; and that the article in THE TIMES—which referred to Louise as a victim of Baldwin's—removed this barrier, all events, the suit was brought, and was a great sensation. Several sensational incidents occurred before the trial, the most of which was the publication in the Register of the deposition of one Gregory, who was of such unparalleled notoriety as to create instant and universal sympathy for the girl. On November 17, 1888, Baldwin's application for a change of venue was denied, but the trial was continued. It finally came to a close on February 2, 1889, in Department No. 1 of the Superior Court. Judge D. P. Ho-

Santa Barbara presiding. None but attorneys and reporters were allowed present, yet the courtroom was full. The trial lasted till the evening of Feb. 19th. The plaintiff's story, very brief, that she first met Baldwin on his raid, December, 1883, when she was 16 years 5 months old. Her father, a respectable farmer, was renting land from Baldwin took a great interest in her and wanted to educate her. He took win appealed to the Supreme Court, no satisfaction. Finally, Judge C. of Department No. 1 of the Superior set aside the verdict on the ground was excessive. A new trial was granted and was set for the June term, 1897. 24th Baldwin's attorneys filed papers that Louise had settled. The consolation he paid her was about $12,000 at the outset, however, assigned her to her attorneys, Hon. Stephen M.

Early yesterday morning G. Wiley and S. M. White, leaders for the parties, walked into the County Clerk's office and deposited a very brief document with the request that it be kept on file. Times man caught on, however, and

He investigation, avidly learned that it was a request for the dismissal of the signed by the lawyers on both sides of Louise. The lawyers would not say about the matter, and it is not known much Lucky had to put up to settle them. As all are satisfied, however, have been something very handsome all hands are happy. Baldwin is cleanest streak of luck he ever struck, and her lawyers have their coin.

REGULAR WEEKLY SESSION OF CITY COUNCIL.

The Mayor Vetoes the Bureau of Information Ordinance—A Building Inspector to Be Appointed—Dunagan's Contract Vetoes.

The City Council met yesterday, all members present. During the session, Senator del Valle, Sheriff Kays and John Moran entered the hall; the gentlemen were escorted by Mayor Workman and extended an invitation to the Council to take part in the reception tendered to Cardinal Gibbons at the Pavilion last night.

After the reading of the minutes of the preceding meeting, a message from Mayor Workman was read. The message is as follows:

To the Honorable City Council of Los Angeles—GENTLEMEN: I hereby return to your honorable body without my approval a contract with D. F. Donegan for the grading of Griffin avenue. This for the following reasons:

Property owners representing over 4000 feet of frontage protest against letting this contract on account of the price being excessive, and desire that your honorable body redetermine for bids. Respectfully, W. H. WOODMAN, Mayor.

After considerable discussion this was referred to the Board of Public Works, with instructions to advertise for a period of two weeks for new bids.

The Fire Commissioners recommended that a building inspector examine the Holbrook block and report upon its safety, and also that the petition of O. W. Krause be returned to him as requested. The last part of this report was adopted. The first part caused a great deal of discussion. Councilman Hines finally moved that the Council appoint a regular building inspector, with a salary of $1500 per year. Carried.

The Park Commissioners reported that the petition of N. Hagan to be allowed to take dirt out of the proposed lake in Sereno street park be granted under the direction of the City Surveyor. Adopted.

The reports of the Finance and Zanja Commissioners recommended filed. Carried.

The petition of Henry Maize for rebate was denied on the ground that it was allowed it would have to be added to his land tax, which cannot now be done. The petition was instructed to apply for relief to the Board of Equalization.

The Auditor's weekly report was filed. The report of the Superintendent of Streets for the week showed work done to the amount of $261.

Report of the Zanjero showed twenty-two days work at an expense of $44.

Petition of W. H. Harris & Co., complaining of the condition of certain sidewalks, referred to Superintendent of Streets.

Petition of J. W. Drown and others requesting the grading of certain parts of certain streets. Referred to Superintendent of Streets.

Petition of W. H. Griffin et al., complaining of continued explosions on Second street. Referred to the Superintendent of Streets.

Petition of A. M. Lawrence, secretary of the Board of Trade, in relation to the establishment of a Soldiers' Home for disabled volunteer soldiers in this city, was read and ordered filed.

A number of petitions were then read and referred to the proper committees.

The following communication from the secretary of Board of Public Schools to City Clerk Freeman G. Teed was read:

Sir: Your letter of inquiry is received. Permit me to reply through you to the honorable body by whom the inquiry is very properly instituted. By a resolution adopted some time in August, the Board of Education fixed the salaries of teachers at certain amounts per annum. These amounts vary from $750 to $850, exclusive of these paid to principals and assistants. On request of a large majority of the teachers, the amount was divided into monthly installments, payable on the last day of each calendar month. By reference to the schedule of former salaries it will be seen that the sums named above are not in most cases more than has heretofore been paid. In some instances they are somewhat lessened. In all, the board has aimed at a just and equitable basis. The cost of living has materially advanced, and the board which were formerly furnished at $750 per month are now obtained with difficulty at $850, $900 or $950. Most all of our teachers have one or more persons dependent on them for support, and the salaries paid, divided by twelve, does not leave any of them with a heavy balance in the bank at the end of the year. Previously the teachers had an expected session of ten months, but owing to the condition of the city's finances, the session has been reduced to nine months and less, and the pay has been diminished in proportion.

Trusting this explanation of our action will prove satisfactory to you and the honorable body for whom you speak, I am very respectfully, ANNA L. AVERILL, Secretary Board of Education.

This communication was ordered filed.

BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS.

Report of the Board of Public Works was next taken up and disposed of as follows:

On petition of Elizabeth Tappert to have Home street graded between Lake Shore and Belmont avenue, recommended that the same be graded and the City Attorney be instructed to draft resolutions accordingly. So ordered.

On communication of Day, Hinton & Maibach in regard to levee, recommended the communication be filed. So ordered.

On communication of W. F. Fitzgerald and W. E. Burke accepting franchise for street railroad, recommended that the same be filed. So ordered.

On petition of H. G. Wilshire to have grade established on streets in the Auburn Lake tract, recommended that the same be referred to the City Surveyor. So ordered.

On petition of E. H. Bentley to have Lucas avenue graded, recommended the same be referred to the City Surveyor. So ordered.

On petition of J. W. Phillips and others to have Central avenue graded between Seventh and Ninth streets, recommended that the same be referred to the City Attorney be instructed to draft resolutions accordingly. So ordered.

On petition of John G. Dowson against the contract price for grading Vine street between First and Jackson streets, recommended the same be denied. So ordered.

Recommended that the bill of Stanford Johnson of $3000 for work done on Ninth street be allowed. So ordered.

Recommended that the bond of A. N. Teller, for the grading of Vine street, be approved. So ordered.

Recommended that the petition of Joseph De Cella and others be referred to the City Attorney and City Surveyor. So ordered.

In regard to the resolution for putting down sidewalks on Main street, Ninth to Washington, recommended that the same be referred to the City Surveyor to make survey and establish lines. So ordered.

In regard to franchise of P. P. McIntosh, recommended the same be granted, provided the petitioner file bond of $10,000 in cash, and that portion of amount of bonds be returned in proportion to the amount of work done during the progress of the work. Paid over for one week and copies ordered sent. So ordered.

On petition of C. Philpot and others to have Beaudry street graded, recommended the same be referred to the City Surveyor to make specifications and plans to grade and drain said street. So ordered.

Board recommended that the bill of E. C. Beaudry of $1500 for work done on Beaudry street be allowed. So ordered.

Board recommended that in the specification for graded and gravelled street, a clause be inserted providing for cobble gutters on all grades steeper than one foot in 100 feet. So ordered.

Recommended that sidewalk on Second street be made twelve feet wide between First and Los Angeles streets, and the City Attorney be instructed to draft resolution accordingly. So ordered.

Assistant City Attorney Dunn then read an opinion upon the proposed issue of extra bonds. This opinion has already been published in THE TIMES, and takes the ground that the proposed additional issue of $150,000 is perfectly legal. The opinion was referred to the Legal Committee, with instructions to publish the same, and advise committees upon the subject from other sources.

of the Board of Public Works, referred back to the Council, who ordered that the switches in question be placed upon the company's own ground.

The report of the Superintendent of three, to consist of the Mayor, the City Surveyor and another, confer regarding the sewer ordinance. The committee which Mayor Workman recommended to examine into the question refused to serve, and some disposition of the question is necessary.

The Chair appointed as the committee to wait upon the Mayor, Messrs. Goss, Jones

The City Attorney was instructed to draft an ordinance for a Building Inspector.
The Plumbing Inspectorship resolution was tabled.

Mr. Hines called attention to the imperfection of the electric lights. There should be an expert to examine the question, as people say they are paying for something which they do not receive.

Mr. Teed stated he had it from good au-half what was contracted for.

On motion of Mr. Lovell, the matter was referred to the Gas Committee, with full power to act.

A lot of bills were read and approved.

Notices of intention to establish the grades of certain streets were read and adopted. The City Treasurer was instructed to draw warrants for the several amounts.

Proposals for building the new City Hall were then read. These proposals are as follows: W. W. Worwood, mason, conplete, $210,000. Referred to Building Com-then read and referred to a special com-

GOULD'S POVERTY.

THE TIME WHEN HE HAD TO BORROW $5.

The Battle of Sticks, Stones and Bullets, from which Gould Came Out Winner—Busted—Borrowed $5, Which Is Still Unpaid.

[Wilkes-Barre Letter to the New York World.]

The news that the Western Union Telegraph Company had allowed the Baltimore and Ohio organization and the fact that Jay Gould was the head and front of the latter company, recall to people the time, less than thirty years ago, when Jay Gould was a bankrupt and practically penniless neighbor, Stanley Woodward, additional judge of the courts of this county, was the receiver of the firm of which Jay Gould was a junior member, and which for some years prior to 1861 had a tannery at Gouldsboro, in Buck township, then in this county, but now in Lackawanna county (the neighborhood was primitive at that time, a little clearing surrounded by dense forests, and it is still pretty much the same, Zadoc Pratt, a well-known tanner in New York, sent Gould there. The tannery was located about six miles distant from Gouldsboro station and the hides were hauled to and the leather from the tannery over a plank road built for the purpose. Leupp, Lee & Company, were importers of hides in New York. They brought large quantities of hides from Buenos Ayres and sent them to Gouldsboro to be tanned, and Jay Gould superintended the process and kept the accounts. For a time the affairs of the partnership moved along swimmingly. Then the partners quarreled, and in a little time the dispute became very bitter.

Actual war followed. Lee organized a force of daring men and marched upon the tannery. Gould had also organized a force and held the tannery, which he had strongly fortified in anticipation of the attack. Lee demanded capitulation. Gould refused. A hot conflict ensued, in which not only sticks and stones but rifle and bullets were used. Jay Gould held possession. Subsequently all matters were constantly being referred to the lawyers on both sides discussing the necessity or non-necessity for an affidavit, and by the time the court had decreed that it should or could be made it would be ready in Gould's own handwriting. He would gather an understanding of what was wanted from the speeches and proceed immediately to the making of it. He wrote a good, clear hand and very rapidly. Judge Woodward says he cannot recall any other instance of equal quickness and aptitude on the part of a client.

As a result of the suit a dissolution of the firm was decreed by the court, and Judge Woodward, then a young lawyer, glad enough of such a windfall, was appointed receiver. He took possession of the tannery, from which, however, nearly everything of value had been removed. There was about $9000 on credits, and the tannery, tools, stock, horses, mules and personal property generally amounted to about $7000 more. The receivership continued through several years before all the tangled accounts could be straightened out. What remained at the settlement went to Leupp, Lee & Co., Gould's debts amounting to more than his share of the proceeds. He was a bankrupt, and the best evidence that such was the case is the fact that, before leaving, which he did soon after the receiver was appointed, he borrowed $5 of J. Lewis Simmons, or "Lew," as he is familiarly called, the keeper of the little hotel at Gouldsboro station, to help pay his expenses back to New York. Simmons is there yet, and the $5 is still owing, though, of course, the great speculator has forgotten the debt, or he would have returned it long ago with interest.

The next his acquaintances heard of Gould was that he had been superintendent of a railroad in Vermont. A little later he was president of the road. His career since is public property. Years afterward Judge Woodward met Gould at Saratoga. They recognized each other. Gould told Woodward, in answer to the latter's question, that his stewardship had been well performed. "Then," said the judge, "jocosely," "I have only this to ask, that if you should ever need a receiver again you will remember the fact and give me the place." Gould answered with a smile eloquent of his conviction that he was not at all likely ever again to be at the mercy of a receiver, and it is probably safe enough to assume that he will at least never be reduced to the necessity of borrowing $5 to pay his fare on a journey in search of a job.

It was but twenty-six years ago that these things happened, and the fact that in that short time he has climbed from such dire straits to the possession of millions and the place of dictator of practically all the telegraph and much of the railroad interests of the country is almost as marvelous as the wildest recitals of the writers of fiction.

Overworked.
[Arkansas Traveler.]
"Do you think we literary men are overworked?" asked a writer during a conversation at a dinner table. "I don't think so," some one replied. "It's the public that is overworked. The readers are the ones that need rest."

An Opportunity to Buy a Farm.
The Santa Fe Railroad Company has largely interested in the new town of Santa Fe Springs, at Fulton Wells. Consequently, all the projected improvements will be rapidly pushed until completion. This is the only tract with its seventy miles of Los Angeles where first-class medicinal springs are found. It will, therefore, always be filled with health-seekers. The Santa Fe Railroad Company's Potomac have secured 20 acres immediately adjoining the best side of this town of Santa Fe Springs, and will sell no town lots at all. They offer it only in blocks of from four to ten acres, at low acre prices, on easy terms. This gives buyers an opportunity to make handsome villa homes or small farms, just beside a railroad depot, handsome new hotel and other desirable improvements. Any purchaser of his property can double his money by subdividing into lots. Call on us for maps and further particulars. Bryant & Fox, 27 West First street, Los Angeles.

Be Not Misled.
Going to see the fine lots on the George Dalton, Sr., tract. This is central property and for sale at one-half its worth. Go and take a free ride with Charles Victor Hall at 2 p.m.; only one-fourth cash, balance on time; save rent.

TWO FRIENDS MEET.
"Hello! old fellow. What have you been doing to yourself? You look like a subject for the undertaker," exclaimed the man on the right.

"I have been taking mercury and potash mixtures until they have nearly ruined me," squeaked the old man on crutches.

"And I," said the other, "have been taking the genuine Swift's Specific, which has built me up from the first dose."

SWIFT'S SPECIFIC.
Nature's own remedy, made from roots gathered from the forests of Georgia. The method by which it is made was obtained by a half-breed from the Creek Indians, who inhabited a certain portion of Georgia, which was communicated to one of the early settlers, and thus the formula has been handed down to the present day. The demand has been increasing until a sufficient laboratory is now necessary to supply the trade. A foreign demand has been created, and enlarged facilities will be necessary to meet it. This great AMERICAN DUDES WHO PRIDE THEMSELVES ON BEING ENGLISH.

There are a large number of young men in these free States whose chief object in life is to be taken for Englishmen.

The youth who wants to pass as an Englishman is obliged to put himself through a long and tedious process of preparation. He usually commences with a study of the "English" method of speech. The first task is to learn how to talk "way down in the chest," and the phrase chosen to experiment upon is, invariably, "By Jove." When he can say this with proper accent, he next ventures upon "You don't say so?" He then passes on to such sentences as "How awfully jolly," "I can't believe it, you know," and so on.

If you live in the same house with him you can hear him up to a late hour of the night repeating over and over such words as "dawn," "cawn't," "pawth," "chawnce," "rathaw," "fathaw" and "aw." Sometimes he will allow his voice to slide up while he says "dawn."

The word that you will hear him use oftentimes is "awfully." He will tell you that a flower is "awfully nice," that the policeman is "awfully cross," that his tea is "awful hot," and that Belle Jones is "awfully jolly."

He would almost die for shame should he make such a vulgar blunder as to say "pants." The word he uses is "trousers," "breeches" or "bags." He will tell you confidently, "I prefer to say bags; it's awfully English; the best fellows all say it, you know." In this way does the young citizen proceed to Anglicize himself.

But you can be English in more ways than in speech. Dress oftentimes proclaims the American Englishman to anything else. Any afternoon about this time of year, you may see dozens of American Englishmen on Fifth avenue, or in the neighborhood of the Hoffman House, the Brunswick or Fifth Avenue Hotel. They are pretty sure to be dressed in large patterned checks, to carry enormous canes, and to have their trousers turned up at the legs. A pair of trousers turned up at the legs is the most English sight that you can see.

I know a young American Englishman who runs to the window every morning on rising to see if he will have an opportunity of turning his trousers-legs up. If the day looks fine he comes away from the window with a disappointed air, and says, "Too bad, by Jove. It isn't going to rain after all." Once he has become a thorough Englishman, however, he will walk through Broadway the sunniest day in the year with his trousers turned up.

JURORS MUST BE INTELLIGENT.

(Philadelphia Times.)

Justice Paxson, of the Supreme Court, in the decision refusing the appeal of Achille Onofri from the Quarter Sessions of this city, clearly defined the standard of intelligence that should be enforced in the selection of jurors, when he remarked that a man who cannot or does not read newspapers is not properly qualified to serve as a juror. This is very different from the law that which rejects a juror because he has, in reading newspapers, formed some opinion of the guilt or innocence of the prisoner, as every man who reads about the crime is likely to do. On the other hand, very few interested men among the many who do form an opinion really form one that could not be changed by the evidence, and an opinion of this character is not likely to be held by a newspaper reader.

Judge Paxson's ruling ought to be assimilated by the jurisprudence of the whole country as soon as possible. The jury system needs it.

A CORRECT KANSAS VIEW.

The conclusions drawn by the Atchison Champion in the following are timely: "The county of Kansas, which has been the scene of the memory of Abraham Lincoln, Ulysses S. Grant and Chester A. Arthur by adopting a resolution that Grover Cleveland was the 'purest' of men, has just passed the White House in the past thirty years." It is difficult to determine whether the authors of such a resolution are idiots or blackguards."

THE RAILING PASSION STRONG IN DEATH.

(New York Sun.)

His life was fast ebbing away, and his mind was wandering. "Bill," he muttered, "hold her up high and let her drop hard; she's chocka for Saratoga." "John," whispered his wife, "do you hear me?" But the baggage-master lay dead.
